		Note: SAG Reel 0214 continues the filming of parish registers of the Anglican Church Diocese of Canberra and Goulburn. The parishes of the Diocese are arranged alphabetically. For parish registers already microfilmed see SAG Reels 0044-0052; 0150-0156; 0174-0176; 0178-0179; 0189; 0212-0213. see the catalogue sheets for the contents of these reels. The original registers are held by the Manuscript Section, Australian Reference, National Library of Australia, Canberra.
		St. Jude's Anglican Church Tumbarumba, N.S.W. Tumbarumba became a separate parish in 1904, although from 1879 – 1883 it had an independent status until re-attached to Adelong. However, ministrations in the district began at least by 1855. From 1855-1879 Tumbarumba was included variously in the parishes of Tumut, Albury, Tumut again, and then Adelong. As a missionary district from 1894–1903 it was in the charge of a licensed stipendiary reader (admitted deacon 1902) with visits by ministers from neighbouring parishes. (R.T. Wyatt: History of the Diocese of Goulburn, 1937)

All Saint's Anglican Church Tumut, N.S.W.

The first ministrations in the Tumut area were performed by the incumbent of Yass (1840) and included visits to Gundagai and Tarcutta. In 1851 Tumut was part of the Murrumbidgee district ministry, the clergyman based at Wagga. The first rector was appointed to the parish of Tumut, Wagga and Gundagai in 1855. Wagga became a separate parish ca1858, Gundagai in 1865 and Adelong with Tumbarumba in 1874.
